MCMLXVI

Just as time is written on the face of a sundial, the thoughts and impressions of students and faculty are written on Centenary. Each moment appears only to disappear. Within the confines of the dial capsule exsits time suspended, this year is suspended within the memories of time spent for . . .

The Lamplighter

For the Class of 1966

The last year is closing, and all the memories crowd in, with the uncertainty of leaving . . . days of endless griping and the half-groaned "I'm gonna flunk out I swear" amid the clatter of cafeteria dishes and the hum of tired voices . . . dirty coffee cups and a full ashtray grimly celebrate the completion of one more term paper . . . the smell of oil paint permeating Jackson third . . . a momentary glimpse of someone else, a whispered confidence by cigarette light . . . the listless boredom of too many hours at bridge in the SUB . . . nights of exultant escape into rare privacy, an arm-in-arm walk in the rain . . . the alien glare of library light on the blurred pages of Great Issues reading . . . the shuffle-click and sudden laughter of a game of pool between classes . . . hoarse singing around a levee fire . . . passing excitement of a good lecture out of all the grey hours in dingy classrooms. Nights of youth, days of age.

You remember the long stiff hours at the typewriter and the light in the Yoncopin office shining on into the morning . . . the frightened joke that is not meant to be laughed at . . . moments of real comradeship in a fraternity or sorority that make it all seem worthwhile . . . days of empty mailboxes and waiting to hear from graduate school . . . the loss of a friend who couldn't take it . . . the impermanence, gaiety of transient things . . . one more section of the constitution painstakingly revised and all the times you wondered "Is it worth it?" . . . freshman expectation at chapel that faded into bored senior contempt . . . nights of one beer too many and the numb ride home to real sleep . . . companionship over the steaming coffee at breakfast, the cafeteria strangely hushed . . . the noise in the dorm . . . frustration of an experiment ruined and done again . . . the taste of mud and sweat during a rough fraternity football game . . . the throbbing release of music at a good dance . . . the short-lived triumph of an election won . . . procrastination, self-disgust . . . first night applause when the show is going well . . . or perhaps the first awkward inkling of what it is to love someone . . .

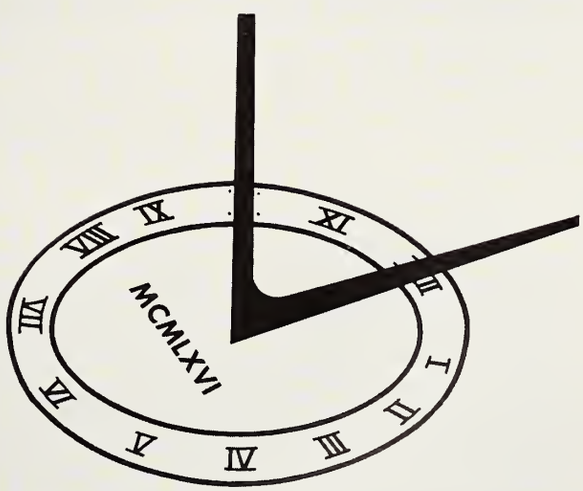

They will glorify it all in graduation speeches and, in time to come, they will call these the best years. The tests, the grades, the course numbers will fade quickly; but some of these isolated, wordless moments out of all will remain. They are, in the end, the meaning of these years.

STUDENT SENATE

Freshman: Charles Williams, Donna Banks
Sophomore: Will Finnin, Janelle McCammon
Junior: Lee Lawrence, Laura Stevens

Senior: Louise Spry, Bob Schwendimann
Independent: Deas Parrish, David Hoskins
Panhellenic: Judy Platt
Inter-Fraternity: James Anderson

The Student Senate of Centenary College has the power to govern and regulate all student functions as defined in the Senate Rules and as subject to the general college regulations. Seventeen members and three faculty advisors compose the Senate and the five major offices are elected by the entire student body. The senators, one boy and girl from each class, are elected by the individual classes and are a new addition to the Senate this year. A boy and a girl are elected to represent the independent students, and the sororities and fraternities elect representatives through Panhellenic and Inter-Fraternity organizations.

These students, although popularly elected, work hard in their respective positions.

Advisors: Dr. Carlton
Dean Hohmann

Committee Chairmen

ASSOCIATED WOMEN STUDENTS

The Associated Women Students is an organization whose membership includes all regularly enrolled women students. Its purposes are "to establish communication between town and dormitory women; to act as a unifying body of all women students enrolled at Centenary College." It is not only a student governing body of the women, but it is also representative of the women as a group on the campus and works to offer activities and opportunities which are particularly suited to women at Centenary College. These purposes are carried out by the Judicial Board, and the appointed committees. The Dean of Women serves as an advisor to all.

Judicial Board

Maroon Jackets

Synonymous with dedication to Centenary College is the organization of Maroon Jackets, composed of girls who are outstanding in leadership, and character. Serving as official college hostesses, these girls represent Centenary at all college functions. They assist during registration, Freshman week, lyceum programs, and weekly chapel programs. Membership in this organization requires a 3.0 average and two semesters of residence at Centenary previous to the semester in which new members are chosen. Each year a coed who has been outstanding is given the Ray Williams Award and is made an honorary Maroon Jacket. Jenny Mayo is the recipient of the Ray Williams award for 1966.

Methodist Student Movement

The Methodist Student Movement is organized around six small groups called DIALOGUE-COVENANT GROUPS, including the steering committee which operates on the small group basis. Six to twelve members are in each group, with each group meeting once a week.

The aim of such groups is to provide a context where persons can create honest and authentic relationships through experiences of self-discipline and commitment. Students commit themselves to two hours a week, one for preparation and one for the meeting of the group. Inherent in such commitment is concern for the other members of the group and the total life of the fellowship.

The meeting of the group is structured around a study paper which enables the members of the groups to encounter views on significant issues and struggle with them in the community. Some Thursday evening meetings of the total membership of all small groups provide instruction, challenge, and orientation through speakers, films, panels, etc.

Kay Reaves, Karen Everitt, Ralph Harker, Mary Poolman, John Walker, Will Finnin.

Lorris Wimberly, Suzanne Sherwin, Barbara Buckner, Patty Toevs, Rex Wilkes, Helen Giessen.

Jim Davis, Dave Edgar, Rick Hebert, Doug Davis, Kathy Nader, Robert Ed Taylor.

Taylor Means, Bon Carter, Jackie Walston, John Lamb, Henry Giessen.

Baptist Student Union

The purpose of the Baptist Student Union at Centenary is to cultivate a student's friendship with Christ, and to grow spiritually as well as intellectually. It is the connecting link between the student and the local church. Activities of the Centenary B.S.U. include socials, mission activities, intramurals, summer mission activities, and Religious Life Week.

Canterbury Club

The Canterbury Club is an organized body of students and faculty operating under the authority and direction of the Episcopal church. It seeks to foster deeper and more meaningful religious thought and experience by providing opportunities for corporate worship, discussion, and recreation. The Canterbury Club at Centenary meets weekly for Divine Worship, program, and supper. On all Feast and Holy Days, Divine Services are conducted at The Canterbury House. The Reverend Kenneth W. Paul is the full-time Episcopal Chaplain to Centenary College.

AEΔ

Alpha Epsilon Delta, a national honor society for pre-medical students, works to encourage excellence in scholarship, and to serve as a liaison between pre-medical and medical students. To qualify for membership in AED, a student must have a 3.0 average in science, a 3.0 overall, and approved by the members. Dr. Mary Warters serves as faculty advisor. Sponsors are Dr. Speairs, Mrs. McFarland, and Dr. Entrikin.

ΓΒΓ

Gamma Beta Gamma is an honorary biology fraternity whose purpose is to create an interest in the biological sciences. Members are chosen on a basis of scholarship and upon faculty recommendation. Field trips form an important part of the club's activities. This year members participated in a camping trip in the Ouchita National Forest to classify organisms and study the area.

Dr. Wilkins and Dr. Speairs serve as the faculty advisors.

Band

Under the leadership of their director B. P. Causey, the Centenary College Band has presented outstanding entertainment to audiences both on and off campus. Besides playing for everyone's enjoyment at chapel, the band has provided music to raise the spirit at our basketball games. In addition the band presented two open air concerts in the fall and spring for the pleasure of the students.

OFFICERS

Billy Riggs, co-publicity chairman; Judy Kleinhans, secretary-treasurer; Lain Causey, co-publicity chairman; Galyon Daigle, vice-president; Billy Malone, president.

American Guild of Organists

The Centenary chapter of the American Guild of Organists was chartered in 1956. Activities include frequent field trips to inspect important organs, as well as to hear recitals and lectures; in addition the group has sponsored master classes by organists of national and international fame.

The Student Louisiana Teacher's Association is open to all students who are majoring in education. The organization holds regular meetings at which are featured outstanding educators as speakers. Topics for discussion at meetings usually center around problems met by prospective teachers. Each year a cash award is given to an outstanding senior education major. An annual spring banquet highlights the year's activities.

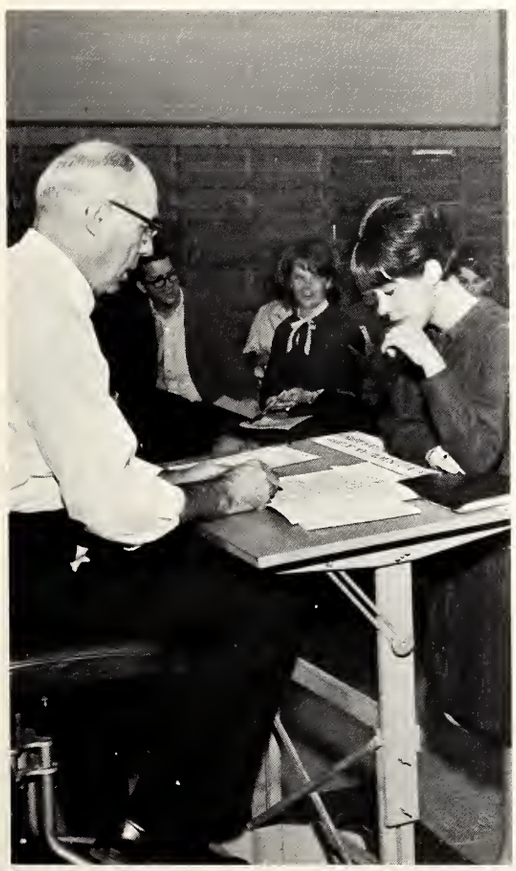

OFFICERS

CENTENARY COLLEGE CHOIR

Beginning with its traditional training camp at Hodges Gardens in early September, the Centenary College Choir launched a banner year of television and travel representing Shreveport and Centenary College from the steamy swamps of South Louisiana to the ice-bound plains of Nebraska.

Starting with fifteen new faces in the total forty-five, the choir gained continuing prestige with its debut concert, "Rhapsody in View" staged for the first time in the new Shreveport Civic Theater. The year continued with a series of monthly television shows on KTBS-TV sponsored by Southwestern Electric Power Company, and a featured role in the weekly broadcasts of the National Protestant Hour. The annual mid-semester tour was highlighted this year with a special performance at the National Convention of Soil and Water Conservation Districts in New Orleans.

In March, the group spent a week touring the Great Plains with special concerts at MacPherson College in Kansas and at Nebraska Wesleyan University in Lincoln. Along with its tours, the choir presented seasonal concerts at Christmas and Easter and will wind up the year with a "Songs by Summer Starlight" presentation at Hodges Gardens. On all its concert tours, the choir was greeted with packed audiences and favorable comment.

In the words of Margaret MacDonald, Amusements Editor of The Shreveport Journal, "As long as the choir brings back such high praise for the college and community, both can be assured of a bright future." Shreveport's "Singing Ambassadors" have given freely of their time and talent to perform an invaluable service to Centenary College by presenting an image of clean-cut intelligence both at home and "on the road."

Centenaru

ΦB

Phi Beta is a national professional fraternity for women whose interests lie in the fields of drama, speech and music. Alpha Iota Chapter was begun at Centenary in February, 1954. The fraternity is dedicated to the preservation of the highest artistic standards. Scholarship and ability in performance are necessary for membership.

ΑΨΩ

Alpha Psi Omega is a national honorary drama fraternity, whose Delta Iota cast was founded at Centenary in 1961. Membership is based on a point system, the points being gained by participating in all areas of theatre work. Sponsors of Alpha Psi Omega are Mr. Orlin Corey and Miss Ruth Alexander.

Les Jongleurs

More than a mere building, the Marjorie Lyons Playhouse is a home—a way of life for the Jongleurs.

Miss Alexander and Mr. Musselman find no job too big or too small to fit into their busy schedules. Everyone works, but they keep smiling.

1965-66

The creation of theatrical genius nestles its head on parents Orlin and Irene Corey.

DR. JEKYLL AND

Carolyn Garison relates a chilling tale of murder to avid listeners John Goodwin, Gary Ball, and Carol Thomas.

In previous years the Readers' Theater productions have made ample use of props and costumes. For this presentation Miss Alexander dressed her cast formally and relied on the voices of Dick Johnson, Charles Park, John Goodwin, Gary Ball, Carol Thomas, Carolyn Garison, and Alan Shaffer, who read the part of Dr. Jekyll-Mr. Hyde, to create the sharp, cold atmosphere.

DON

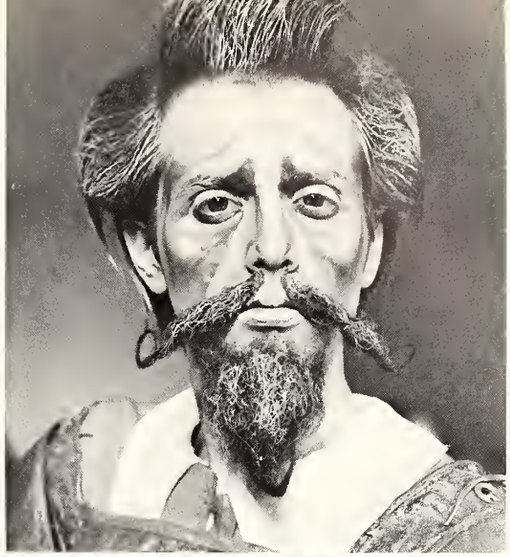

A group of friendly shepherds entertain Don Quixote with a rustic dance.

MR. HYDE

Maritornes, played by Sandra West, offers the innkeeper his sword.

The Jongleurs were privileged to give birth to the world premier of Arthur Fauquez's adaptation of Don Quixote. This is the second of Mr. Fauquez's plays to have its beginning at the Marjorie Lyons Playhouse. His animal fable, Reynard the Fox, mushroomed from a Centenary College production to international tour material. The final script of Don Quixote will be published as it was performed by the Jongleurs including pictures of that production.

QUIXOTE

Don Quixote surveys the world from his brave charger, Roscinante.

From adventurous idealist to practical housekeeper to roguish cut-throat . . . all give life to Don Quixote in the persons of Alan Shaffer as Don Quixote, Dorothy Bradley as Dona Belisa, and David Kingsley as Gines.

YERMA

Juan (Charlie Looney) denies what Yerma deserves.

Victor (John Goodwin) offers what Yerma desires.

Mr. Donald Musselman made his directing debut at the Marjorie Lyons with Garcia Lorca's Yerma, the tragedy of a childless woman. Midway through the run, Marsha Harper's unfortunate accident gave audiences the unique opportunity of seeing two very different, yet two very exciting interpretations of Yerma. Carol Thomas replaced Miss Harper in the last three performances.

Sandra West, Barbara McMillian, and Paula Stahls share the latest gossip.

Young Maria, played by Jeannie Marlin Smith, is blessed with children and a happy home.

BEHIND THE YELLOW DOOR

George, Dave Kingsley, and Betty, Jeannie Marlin Smith, have a moment to themselves.

Davey, John Goodwin, tells his mother, Dorothy Bradley, that death should not be accepted so readily.

South Africa sent Centenary the engaging Mr. Robert Mohr of Cape Town to direct the American premiere of Behind the Yellow Door, a South African play by Flora Stohr. The New Year's Coon Festival provided the background for gay parties as well as the tragic death of the younger Daniels daughter.

Mr. Robert Mohr instructs the three ladies of the Daniels family.

Varying degrees of welcome greet the irrepressible Ahlie Gamaldien at the Daniels' house.

No New Years Eve party would be complete without the loud and vulgar Raymond family.

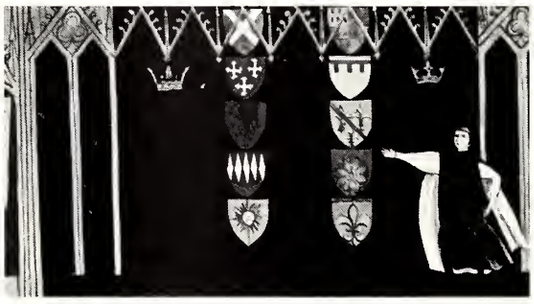

The English cast their tents to the left, the French to the right at the encampment at Agincourt.

The English fleet sails from South Hampton to Harfleur.

HENRY V

Chorus heralds the beginning of the play.

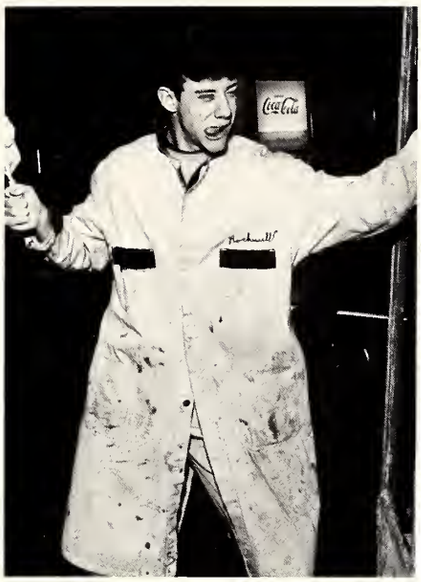

Henry, the soldier, and two members of his army prepare to meet a French official.

"A gleam of splendor falls across the land" is the phrase Winston Churchill used in describing Henry V, the soldier-king. In his production of Henry V, Mr. Corey's aim was to glorify the young hero king. Mrs. Corey's designs illustrate some of the spectacle that surrounds the largest cast of the year.

Dressed for their famous love scene, Katherine waits for Henry in her castle.

Dave Kingsley applies the finishing touches to the Yerma set with delicacy and finesse.

Stage managing requires dignity and patience which poses no problem for Ken Holoman.

Paula Stahls loads her weapon and prepares to attack the surrounding enemy.

The deft toes of Charlie Brown react to a tense moment on the light board.

Often unnoticed, often forgotten are the technical crews that are indeed the "playmakers" Here is a spoof on the five very serious technical jobs of scene construction, costume construction, stage management, lighting, and sound.

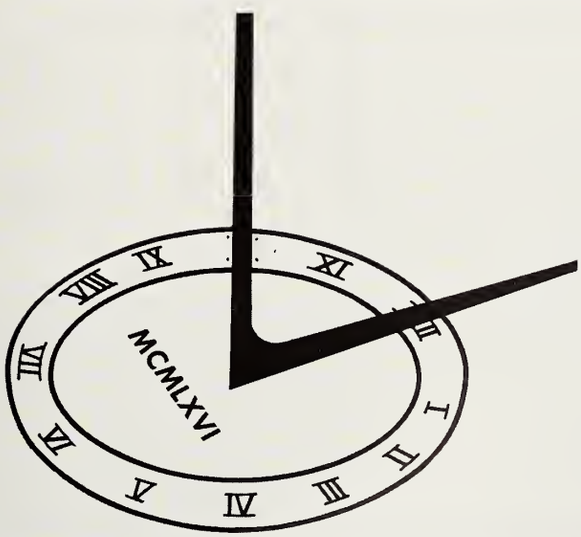

Jeannie Smith gets all wrapped up in the uncomplicated task of running sound.

Rush for the Alpha Xi's this year was a pleasure-filled success. Members welcomed rushees into their lodge and gave them some idea of what the coming year held in store for the Alpha Xi's. There would be open houses, suppers, the faculty Brownie Party; Hootenanny, a Harvest Moon Hayride, the Christmas parties, the Playboy contest, the Rose Formal, and Spring Sing. Once a week, the Alpha Xi's entertained under-privileged children at the Salvation Army and held special parties at Christmas and Easter for the children.

Alpha Xi's were members of honorary scholastic and professional fraternities. They were on the Dean's List, in S. L. T. A., in the Story Book League, and in Kappa Pi. They were active in various campus activities such as Choir, religious organizations, Biology Club, Cencoe, Student Senate, band, Freshman Follies, Jongleurs, AWS, and WRA. They were also represented on the Mardi Gras Court. Connie Grambling plays for the Shreveport Symphony Orchestra.

The Alpha Xi's "roared" back into the twenties for rush this year.

Pledge Kern surprises everyone at the all-campus party with a very effective demonstration of dart throwing.

As a climax to an eventful rush week, the Chi Omegas filled the largest quota in the Chapter's history. The activities of the year began with a banquet and slumber party in honor of the new pledges. Other social activities included a Father-Daughter Banquet, a western hayride, a Hoot'n Howl for the campus at which the "Owl Man" Alton McKnight was announced, pledge-active suppers, Chi-O Maid Day, and a Christmas open house for faculty and students. Service projects include support of a Chinese orphan, a Thanksgiving basket for the needy, and caroling at hospitals during Christmas.

Although many Chi Omega's were active in numerous campus organizations and activities, the following individuals merit special recognition for the honors they have received: Linda Whiteside, co-ed Vice-President of the Student Senate; Janelle McCammon, Sophomore senator and Donna Banks, Freshman senator; Frances Victory, managing editor of the Conglomerate; Maroon Jackets included Linda Whiteside, Cindy Haug, Lennis Elston, Sherry Herron; SLTA treasurer, Ann Clingman; Carol White, Vice-President and pledge trainer of Phi Beta; Janelle McCammon, secretary of Phi Kappa Delta; Alpha Chi, Sherry Herron, Lennis Elston, Linda Whiteside; Johncy Mundo, Vice-President Panhellenic; Cheerleaders, Pam Jones, Johncy Mundo; W. R. A., Janet Talley, President, Mary Lou Poolman, Vice-President; Janie Fleming, sophomore class favorite, Lynne Bonneau, senior class favorite; Who's Who included Lennis Elston, Sherry Herron, Cindy Haug, Linda Whiteside; Yoncopin beauties, Gail Morgan and Cherri Turpin; Mary Sorrows Circle K Sweetheart; Linda Whiteside, Centenary Lady; Yoncopin staff, Carol Culpepper and Carol White; class officers were Judy Pate, Janie Fleming, and Diane Hercher; Vice-President Cencoe, Ann Clingman; the A. W. S. Council included Toni Funicello, Linda Beede; on the Dorm Councils were Johncy Mundo, Chris Myles, Deeana Nichols, Patty Burnap, Karen Everitt, Janie Fleming, and Toni Funicello.

Janie Fleming "vamps" her way through rush.

The Chi Omega Owl man accepts one of his seventy-two new responsibilities.

ZTA

Off to a good start toward another successful year, Zeta Tau Alpha pledged a full quota of twenty-seven following rush week. This was followed by traditional spaghetti suppers, a father-daughter banquet, big-little sister activities, open houses, and teas. In December the Zetas gave a fun-filled all-campus dance, the Mistletoe Mash. The elegant spring formal honoring the new initiates was the climax of the year's activities. Two personal-service projects of the Zetas were: assisting a United Fund Day care center and adopting and supporting an Austrian orphan girl.

Zeta Tau Alpha's have been active in all phases of campus life: honorary professional and scholastic fraternities; Student Senate; Centenary College Choir Most Valuable Lady, Anne Hohmann; and choir members, dorm councils, religious organizations, A. W. S., publication staffs such as Yoncopin and Conglomerate, Jongleurs, Panhellenic and Cencoe. The following are some of the outstanding activities of Zetas: "Bitsy" Walton, Adell Baillif, Alice Ann Buchanan, Anne Hohmann, Marty Vaughn, class officers; Maureen Buckley and Kathy Mittelstaedt, Yoncopin beauties; Mary Tullie Wyrick, Miss Centenary; Carol Bartholomey and Adell Baillif, class favorites; Ann Marcom, KA Rose, Jan Brown, KE sweetheart, Sarah Smith, TKE sweetheart, "Bitsy" Walton, KA Rosebud; Martha Sneed, Marty Vaughn, Ann Marcom, Laura Stevens, Ann Hohmann, Who's Who; Marty Vaughn, Ann Marcom, Martha Sneed, Maroon Jackets; Paula Marshall, Student Senate secretary; Marty Vaughn, Panhellenic president; Ellen Buford, secretary of W. R. A.; Ann Hohmann, Honor Court; Kay Koelemay, Lynda Douglass, Becky Kuhatschek, varsity cheerleaders; Mollie Richey and "Bitsy" Walton, freshman cheerleaders.

Sometimes even Miss Centenary has wardrobe problems.

Lack of sleep during rush didn't seem to bother these girls.

KA

Alpha Iota Chapter of Kappa Alpha Order completed a most successful rush at Centenary. At the November party Miss Bitsy Walton was named KA "Rosebud" of the pledge class. The Order ended its social year with Old South, which included the secession from the Union, lawn party, and ball. Probably the campaign success of the year was won by the KA's during class officer elections. The KA cannon not only shattered windows and crashed the front door of James Dorm, it also set the housemother, Mrs. Caldwell, on fire.

Representing the Kappa Alpha's on campus are as follows: Who's Who, Mal Morgan; Cheerleaders, Mike Little and John Salisbury; Conglomerate staff, Pitts Launey; Student Senate President, Mal Morgan; Circle K, Tom Colquitt, Mal Morgan; Mike Little was chosen for the Washington Semester program; the Student Senate Committees included Reed Yates and Mike Walsh; Alpha Epsilon Delta, Mal Morgan; Pi Kappa Delta, Mal Morgan, Mike Little; and ODK, Mal Morgan.

The expense account for rush was quite limited this year.

Formally attired KA's frequent the sub.

The Kappa Sigma Fraternity began its year by pledging fifty-two boys. After the flurry of the parties at the beginning of school, the chapter settled down to the more serious aspects of campus life.

Kappa Sigma captured many elections for campus offices. Serving as Student Senate Treasurer was Popejoy. Senators included Schwendimann, Lawrence, and Williams. Class Presidents were Robinson, Critcher, and Clinton. Selected for Who's Who were Kizer, Hruska, Clinton, and Schwendimann. Centenary Gentleman was Rick Hruska. Tapped for ODK were Critcher, Linder, and Schwendimann. Other accomplishments of the Sigs were Hruska, Chief Justice of the Honor Court; other Court Justices were Schwendimann, Clinton and Hooker, alternate. Jimmy Journey served as editor of the Yoncopin. The Sigs were also represented on the Conglomerate staff, in the choir, and in the honorary organizations.

Early in the year Kappa Sigma entertained at its annual Pajama Party. At the Christmas party the pledge class announced Miss Kathy Nader as their pledge class sweetheart. Held in the Spring were the theme party and the Black and White Formal with its reception given by the sweetheart.

The Sigs completed their most successful rush this Fall.

TKE

Tau Kappa Epsilon began its third year on campus by pledging twenty-nine men in rush and immediately plunging into the flood of campus activities. Parties, open houses, serenading the girls' dorms, and elections helped fill the Tekes' schedule. The pledges held a barbecue for the actives, and by the end of the first semester both pledges and actives were knee-deep in remodeling the TKE house. As usual, Tekes enthusiastically participating in all intramural sports, but were just as devoted to scholarship, as evidenced by the chapter's recently won international award for top scholastic improvement on a small campus.

In campus elections pledges John Lewis and Bill Ulrich were chosen as freshmen cheerleaders, Dick Grisham was elected junior favorite, and Joe Loupe chosen sophomore class president. Grisham was student senate vice-president and Will Finnin was sophomore senator; many other Tekes held positions on senate committees, such as the Ad Hoc and Forums. Grisham was selected for membership into Who's Who and O.D.K. Gaylon Daigle was elected vice-president of Alpha Chi, while Finnin and James Anderson gained membership into Alpha Sigma Pi. Loupe served as secretary-treasurer of the I.F.C., and Anderson represented the council in the senate. Rob Tinsley, James Anderson, and Cary Perks were members of Circle K. The Conglomerate had Mike Deare on its staff, and Loupe served as its news editor.

Although Tekes were and are found in all facets of campus life, the fraternity has never lost sight of its primary goal—that of cultivating and maintaining a true brotherhood based on individual worth and character.

This secret escape hatch will sure come in handy for quick exits.

TOM KERWIN

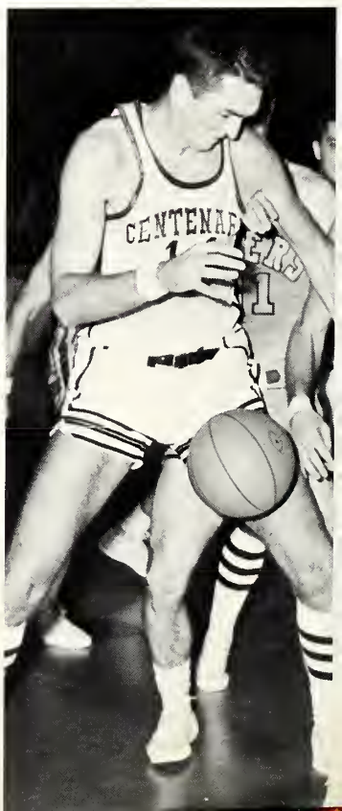

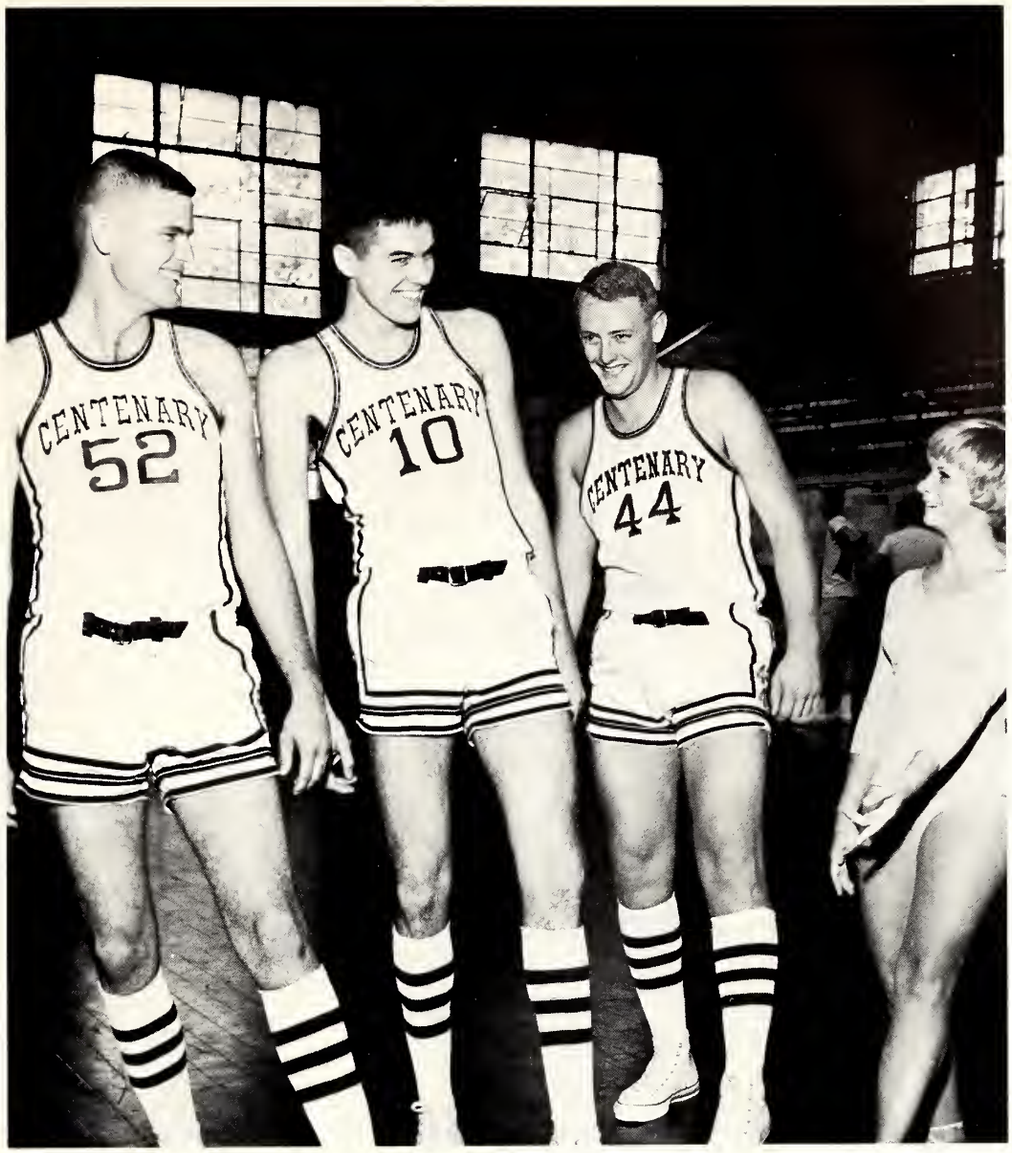

Tom Kerwin, the legendary "Captain Hook" has finished his fourth year as mainstay of the Centenary Gents. As is typical of a legend, Tom saved his smash for his senior year. Given All-American Honorable Mention twice previously, Tom furthered his impressive record by averaging better than twenty-seven points per game. He is ranked among the top ten in the nation in total points scored. He has made a lasting impression in collegiate basketball, both in Shreveport and the United States.

The Centenary Gymnastics Team is certainly one we can be proud of. This year the team has traveled 10,000 miles to ten states, Canada, and Mexico. During these travels they have conducted twenty-six clinics and exhibitions in addition to competing in twelve meets, both National A.A.U. and Inter-collegiate. This past summer Marianne Woolner won the first gold medal ever won by an American woman gymnast in the Macciabeth Games in Israel.

Mary Camille Traweek

Marianne Woolner

Susan McDonnell, a native of Scarsboro, Ontario, is undoubtedly one of the outstanding members of Centenary College's fine gymnastic team. She has won first places in vaulting, balance beam, uneven bars, and the floor exercise, her specialty. She has been instrumental in defeating gymnastic teams from Ohio State and Kent State. She represented Canada, her homeland, in the North American Championships in Montreal, and succeeded in capturing two gold medals, two silver, and one bronze, the most ever won by a Canadian performer. She placed fourth all around in the National Gymnastic Clinic Championships held in Sarasota, Florida in December. She is a determined performer and certainly a great asset to Centenary College.

The second annual Centenary International Gymnastic Clinic was held this year on February 4 and 5, 1966. It was the largest two-day clinic ever held in the United States and was attended by over 1,000 coaches and gymnasts. Two of the outstanding gymnasts who participated in the clinic were Olympians Janie Speaks and Rusty Mitchell.

Dr. Jack Stauffer Wilkes
President, Centenary College

In the past two years, Dr. Jack S. Wilkes has instituted several far-reaching programs on the campus, including the drive to increase and diversify the enrollment, and an intensified fund-raising campaign. Though his influence has been important in changing many college policies, his most important influence has been his cooperation with students in their effort to strengthen student government. At the President's Conference last fall, Dr. Wilkes expressed his willingness to help widen the areas of student responsibility. Since then he has demonstrated that willingness by working with student committees to plan the badly-needed activity fee and by lending support to the Student Senate Forums program.

JACK FISER

This book is not dedicated to anyone. No yearbook, representing as it should all the separate moments in the lives of the many people who make a college, can honestly be dedicated to any one person.

But one man, Jack Fiser, does deserve our respect and gratitude.

As Centenary's Director of Public Information, Mr. Fiser is the unsung, behind-the-scenes man who directs what the college says about itself. He is symbolic, because of his contribution to Centenary's efforts to grow, of the new face of the college. He has willingly gone beyond his public relations duties to help with the college's development campaign, and has traveled to New York and Chicago to talk to prospective students, and around the state to speak for the college.

But it is in another, more personal way that we have grown to think of Mr. Fiser as trusted friend and soft-spoken mentor. He has always been there to offer help and a kind word; but in spite of his understanding, he has never tried to supervise or censor our work. He has trusted our ability, and our ability has grown thereby. At every opportunity he has spoken in behalf of improved conditions for the Conglomerate and Yoncopin staffs.

As a knowledgeable professional, Mr. Fiser represents the growing college. As a man, he is due this tribute: he was there when we needed him.

I wondered all year what could be said on this page. Without bringing skeletons out of the closet and munching sour grapes, very little can be said I'm afraid. Anyway, despite what I just said, it's been an O K year.

Problems? Oh yes, we had problems, but the funny thing is they seem so incredibly small now. I like to think they're in a dormant state, like an ulcer, only waiting to be irritated by the tensions facing next year's editors. It will be sad, really sad, if they have to fight their own inexperience, as well as their staff's, and make guesses about an almost non-existent budget. It's so simple. A training program for the staff and an accurate budget initiated under a student activities fee could solve the most pressing problems.

Staff? Yes, bless their hearts, I had a staff. Everyone on pages 48 and 49 not only did their work, but learned how to do it within the short space of a few weeks, some within a matter of hours. Thank you.

My special thanks go to four people who made that last deadline possible—Lynn Olson, Karen Fiser, Lester Hammond, and Pat Ewing. After they volunteered for last minute responsibility, their untiring work and most of all their smiles, tied the loose ends of our book together. Then there's Doug, Lynda Douglass, what can I say? Without her this book would have been immeasurably less. And Maureen . . .

there is no end of things in the heart . . .
